*James H. Schneider, A.B. (Yale, 1860). September, 1860, to September, 1863. Drafted into the service of his country. He regarded the draft as the call of duty. The Visitors of the School, in speaking of his resignation in their report, say: "His ardent and increasing love for his work, with his habits of thorough and exact study, and his aptness to teach, made his services exceedingly valuable, and his resignation is greatly to be regretted." He entered the army, and was appointed Second Lieutenant. He was attached to the 2d U. S. Colored Regiment and was soon offered the choice between the adjutancy and the chaplaincy of the regiment. He chose to be Chaplain and was ordained October 27, 1863; was soon ordered to Ship Island, Mississippi Sound. He died of "yellow fever" at Key West, Florida, April 26, 1864, at 25 years of age. He was greatly beloved by all who knew him,—an able scholar and teacher, a noble, Christian patriot.
